DETAILED ACTION

In response to the Request for Continued Examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114 filed on 12/22/2009. Claims 1, 5, 18, and 25 have been amended and claims 2-3, 12-14, 16-17, 19-23, 26, 28, and 32-33 have been canceled. Claims 1, 4-11, 15, 18, 25, 27, and 29-31 are pending in the instant application.

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1, 4-11, 15, 18, 25, 27, 29-31 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
3. The claims of the present invention are directed towards a method and apparatus for an on-line game tournament which determines participant's competition by tournament and prize money. The claims are directed towards an available tournament participation step allowing players to select a game to participate and bestow an initial level and an initial credit on the user for the tournament for the game, and if a participation fee for the tournament for the game is paid by the user. Additionally, the system provides a challenging competitor decision step for deciding challenging competitors who compete with the participant for the game from the other available participants on a same level who are not processing the game and the user and a decided competitor become competitors for the game. Furthermore, the system provides an initial credit and level to the user and every participant only competes with another on the same level. After each competition, the level of the winner increases by one and the winner continues to compete and is awarded a predetermined rate of credit from the loser and the loser is awarded the prize money according to the remaining present credit and the loser is dropped out of the tournament. This is exemplified in the example provided in the applicant's remarks on pg. 10 of the response submitted 12/22/2009.

4. In the closest related prior art of Walker, it does not fairly teach or suggest increasing the level of a winner by one and transferring a predetermined rate of credit of the loser's funds from a loser to the winner and having players matched having the same level and credits.

5. In the prior art of Massey, a gaming tournament system is taught and suggested and teaches the transfer of the loser's fund to the winner however it also does not fairly teach or suggest an initial credit given to each player and increasing the level of the winner by 1 and always playing an opponent on the same level.

6. Freuer also fails to cure such deficiencies as it teaches the initial level and credit of a player at the start of the tournament but does not further teach or suggest having a player matched exclusively with those that increase their level by one with each win and matched with equivalent level players in each round of play.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
